This report is open access and features an interview with San Francisco-based ING co-head of power and renewable energy Thomas Cantello and New York-based Ana Carolina Oliveira, ING head of sustainable finance for the Americas.

Beyond the ING focus on power and renewables in the US, the report holds never-before-seen features including:

- focus on floating solar in APAC
- the future of renewable energy across MENA
- a feature on the potential for P3 in the US university sector
- the evolution of infra funds to broaden scope and regional focus
- a technology focus piece – from offshore wind to electric vehicle charging
- turbine top trumps – a focus on offshore wind turbines where big is bountiful
- Seagreen Offshore Wind Farm - case study
