We are delighted to report that people are signing up in their droves to attend the 3 regional IJGlobal Awards presentation which will be open access from 29 June.

IJGlobal editor Ila Patel and editorial director Angus Leslie Melville will take to the stage (virtually and pre-recorded) to announce the winners one day before publishing the quarterly (digital) magazine in which we delve into greater detail on all the winning companies and transactions from the 2020 calendar year.

To enjoy the full experience – including acceptance speeches and the occasional mis-pronunciation – sign up to attend here:

The IJGlobal team took the decision to combine the EMEA awards – rather than presenting MENA separately as is customary for the Dubai awards night – to streamline the production process.

The intention is to return to live events for IJGlobal Awards 2021 when we look forward to meeting many of you in person... and redeeming our deposits for venues from the 2019 awards nights!
