

IJGlobal Awards 2022 – deadline extension

Angus Leslie Melville

12/12/2022

The deadline for submissions to IJGlobal Awards 2022 – the biggest celebration of greenfield infrastructure and energy achievements in the international industry calendar – has been pushed back to the end of this week (16 December).

Popular demand – and frantic emails from submitters – has prompted IJ to push back the final deadline to Friday to allow greater participation.

IJGlobal unashamedly claims the title for hosting the single most established awards events – presented in London, New York, Singapore and Dubai – in the global infra/energy sector.

We believe that IJGlobal Awards – judged by 5 separate independent panels of industry experts – are the most peer-review in the sector, selected in the most transparent processes to be run by any publication and presented at the most entertaining awards nights.

IJGlobal Awards recognise greenfield and refinancing deals that closed in the 2022 calendar year across the globe in the many different sectors that combine to reflect infrastructure and energy as defined by this title and (largely) the market.

To help submitters target their entries, we have given greater guidance to the different sections that we hope clarify – in a few words – what the judges are looking for in each category.

With the submissions portal for IJGlobal Awards 2022 remains open until the end of this week, while the agenda for the coming few months is:

- submissions close – 16 December
- Judgment Days:
 - Europe and Africa – 10 January
 - MENA – 11 January
 - North America – 12 January
 - Latin America – 17 January
 - APAC – 19 January
- shortlists announced – 23 January

Awards nights will be hosted across 4 locations in this order:

- Europe and Africa in London – 9 March
- Americas Awards in New York – 16 March
- APAC Awards in Singapore – 23 March
- Middle East Awards in Dubai – 30 March
