We are delighted today to publish the shortlist for the Company section of the IJGlobal Awards 2024 for North America, identifying the organisations that the independent panel of judges shortlisted...with the winners to be announced in New York.

The North America awards are being hosted on 13 March at Gotham Hall, New York. For more information, go to the site for IJGlobal Awards 2024.

As with all IJ awards, we take great pride in their peer-review nature, judged by an independent pane of industry experts that has the final say on all company winners. To read about the judges, click here...

This story identifies the organisations on the North America company shortlist – with the winners revealed on the night. However, there are several other company awards that will be announced, but where the judges chose an outright winner (see end).

The transaction awards are judged by the IJGlobal regional editorial team based on submissions. They are not shortlisted.
